PROFILE

My name is Eri, I was born on the 6th of March in 1994. I am an analytical, communicative individual that takes responsibility and fulfills every task given. I have managed a coffeeshop comprising six stuffmembers with very good results and served as a Team Leader in the Greek Army. I love learning new skills and designing. I believe that Game Design and Programming satisfies my need to work with creativity and strategic thinking; These disciplines provide a dynamic environment that suits my personality as a versatile individual.
